

PRE-QUIZ FOR CHAPTER 1

1-1. A question that is both fundamental and addressed fairly directly by personality psychology is:

- A. Can people know others?
- B. What is moral and what is not in life?
- C. Who am I?
- D. Is Freud's theory of repression correct?

1-2. The personality system is relatively molar compared to:

- A. Social groups
- B. The brain
- C. The outside situation
- D. All of the above

1-3. Training in the field of personality psychology takes place mostly in:

- A. Psychiatry
- B. Schools of Professional Personality Psychology
- C. Academic departments, in sub areas of social/personality psychology
- D. In clinical psychology

1-4. The four main topics into which this book is divided are:

- A. Molecular, molar, internal, and external
- B. Clinical, personality, social, and psychiatric
- C. Psychodynamic, Behavioral, Social-Cognitive, and Trait
- D. Introduction, parts, organization, and development

1-5. A reason not given in the textbook for studying personality psychology is:

- A. It is important to understanding how people operate in groups.
- B. It can be used to describe people's personality
- C. It can be used to predict the outcome of a person's life, based on personality
- D. It is important if a person wants to change his or her personality